On Monday July 14, 2014 Davenport Mayor Bill Gluba hosted a roundtable discussion at the Davenport Public Library. The purpose of the meeting was to address the influx of migrant children coming in from Central America into the United States and how a Quad Cities based "Caring Cities" campaign could assist.

The meeting was approximately 50 minutes long. This video has been edited down to 17 minutes.

In attendance and identified on the video are:

Mayor Bill Gluba, City of Davenport

Glenn Leach, Davenport Catholic Diocese

Mike Reyes, League of United Latin American Citizens

Cheryl Goodwin, President Family Resources

Mr. Ortiz, Outreach and Community Enrollment Coordinator for Community Healthcare

Rick Schloemer, Scott County Housing Council

Stephanie Lynch, Doctoral Candidate University of Iowa

Amy Rowell, Director of Moline World Relief

Byron Brown, Retired ARMY, CEO at TGR Solutions

[Note: Not every individual seated at the table is identified by name in the video. We are happy to update this story with any missing participants.]
