

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

- Discount - GFI EndPointSecurity 2012
- Discount - Cultured Code Things MAC
- Buy Cheap Project 2010 For Dummies
- Discount - Autodesk AutoCAD Revit MEP Suite 2009
- Buy Cheap Autodesk Mudbox 2012 MAC
- Buy Cheap Boris Final Effect Complete Multilingual 5.0
- Buy OEM Adobe Creative Suite 4 Design Premium All-in-One For Dummies
- Buy Panic Transmit 4 MAC \(en\)
- Buy Cheap Lynda.com - Up and Running with PHP: PEAR, PECL, and Composer
- Buy Cheap How to Do Everything Adobe Photoshop CS4
- Buy I.R.I.S. Readiris 12 Corporate MAC \(en\)
- Buy OEM Adobe Audition CS6

The Quad Cities' lost a treasure on February 15, 2009 when community leader John Kiley died at the age of 58 years young.

On Wednesday February 18, his great friend Randy Richards soothed the full house at Sacred Heart Cathedral with an insightful eulogy -- seasoned appropriately with song lyrics from the soundtrack of Kiley's life. Kiley touched too many souls to count in his career as a social activist, culture and music fan, marathon runner, United Way leader, teacher and most recently development director at the Catholic dioceses. Richards deftly summarized the challenge with reconciling all that Kiley accomplished in his life, explaining that in his estimation, Kiley had to really be 108 years old to have achieved so much and touched so many people. He had in fact been lying to us about his age.

Especially poignant was Richards' call to prize and praise Kiley's life as well lived. "Praised for his courage. For when courage goes, honesty is the next casualty and soon after we witness the death of integrity."

Our world needs more Kileys with his courage and integrity. May we all recall Kiley's smile, laughter, words and deeds often in our own efforts to do what Kiley did every day -- make our community and world a better place to live.

Another of John's great friends, Victoria Navarro, shared her poem about John. It too elicited both tears and laughter and was equally as insightful about John Kiley and all the roles he played in our lives.

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

Richards' eulogy and Victoria's poem are both reprinted below, in their entirety, with the authors' permission.

In addition, Linda Cook authored a fine memorial to John Kiley, in her piece in the QCTimes. Photos may be submitted for the gallery to the right by emailing support@rcreader.com.

Kiley's Eulogy

by Randy Richards - Feb 17, 2009

*We've been through some things together
With trunks of memories still to come
We found things to do in stormy weather
Long may we run.*

*Although these changes have come
With our chrome hearts shining in the sun
Long may we run.*

Kathy asked me to say ~~with~~ words about Kiley. ~~begin with these stey~~. this to be a great honor and hea

*I came upon a child of god
He was walking along the road
And I asked him, where are you going
And this he told me
Im going on down to yagurs farm
Im going to join in a rock n roll band
Im going to camp out on the land
Im going to try an get my soul free
We are stardust
We are golden
And we've got to get ourselves
Back to the garden*

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

In August 1969, a young John Kiley made his way to Yasgur's farm in upstate New York to join 500,000

That was quintessential Kiley. He was at once intellectually, musically, artistically and socially avant garde

Kathy makes exquisite creations with oil and brush, copperplates and massive presses and sometimes t

*As you brush your shoes
And stand before the mirror
And you comb your hair
And grab your coat and hat
And you walk, wet streets
Tryin to remember
All the wild breezes
In your memory ever.
And everything looks so complete
When you're walkin out on the street
And the wind catches your feet
And sends you flyin, cryin
Ooh-wee.
The wild night is calling.*

I have listened to so many stories from so many of you about all of the times you spent with Kiley and al

In thinking this over, there is only one conclusion I can draw. Kiley was a liar. He lied about his age. The

*May your hands always be busy
May your feet always be swift
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift
May your heart always be joyful
And may your song always be sung
May you stay forever young
Forever young, forever young
May you stay forever young.*

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

And despite John's 108 years, he was forever young. He never lost his youthful exuberance for the abun

In conflict, be fair and generous.□
In governing, don't try to control.□
In work, do what you enjoy.□
In family life, be completely present.

What a magnificent life! What a ride Kiley has taken all of us on with him. What stories we can tell of him

A life to be prized:

Prized for his good fortune along with his sister Kathy to have been born to Lil and Robert Kiley. The cos Prized for his wonderful wife Kathy. A brilliant star in her own constellation and the first two syllabus of a

Prized for his Joanna and Julia, daughters close to the tree but not in its shade. Two reflections not repr Prized for his Elliott and Iris who knew their grandfather too briefly. But everyone in this room promises t

Prized for being part of the Ambrose mafia. Mentored by Geiger and DeJohn. Dawson and Kennedy. Mo

Prized for finding work he loved or transforming work he did not love into something he could love.

Prized for the all of his friends, an ocean of friends and embarrassment of riches of love. Last night at vi

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

And a life to be praised:

Praised for how he used his gifts and good fortune to benefit others.

Praised for a compassion informed and guided by intelligence. For compassion without intelligence is so

Praised for his courage. For when courage goes, honesty is the next casualty and soon after we witness

For all of this we are grateful and joyous and we try not to be sad. But still we are in grief

*Everytime I see your face
It reminds me of the places
We used to go,
But all I've got is a photograph,
And I realize you're not coming back anymore.*

Let us hold them both, the joy and grief. In proper measure as the times demand. For true the taste of o

The family has asked me to invite all of you to the Kahl Ballroom for a food and music and conversation.

*Oh won't you stay
One more day with your own ones
Don't rush away
Rush away from your own ones
This old world is so cold,
Don't care nothing for your soul
You share with your own ones*

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

Thanks Kiley, hope you liked it

Something About John

by Victoria Navarro - Feb 17, 2009

I want to say something about John

I want to say something that won't make people sadder

Because that is what John would have done.

I want to say something thoughtful because that's what John was...thoughtful and selfless.

I want to say something that will help us mend,

because that's what John was...a mender.

I want to say something clever and pithy to make us smile or even laugh out loud because that's what John was...witty.

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

I want to say something so profound that it will give us pause for days to come because that's what John was... a thinker and a teacher.

I want to say something to give us comfort now and in the future

because that's what John was... a caretaker.

I want to embrace you all and share life's energy,

because that's what John was... a true friend.

I want to hug my family, especially my granddaughter,

because that's what John was... a family man.

I want to be patient and loving with my husband, because that's what John was... a devoted, adoring spouse.

I want to go dancing with reckless abandon and listen to the Clash and ride home in my convertible, be

I want to plan trips that I can't afford,

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

go to rock concerts, even when I've been told they are sold out and tickets are impossible to get,

I want to learn new languages,

have new experiences that people say I am too old to have,

I want to make my community better,

Make things happen!

because that's what John was...a dreamer.

I know we all knew John in different ways,

But the soul, the core of the man, if you will,

was always the same...

pure and good.

Thank you

for letting me say something about John.

John Kiley, 1950-2009

Written by Todd McGreevy
Thursday, 19 February 2009 00:11

2/17/09

Victoria Navarro