

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

- 219.95\$ Autodesk AutoCAD Inventor Professional Suite 2010 \(64 bit\) cheap oem
- Buy CorelCAD 2014 MAC \(en\)
- Buy ABest RM RMVB Video Converter \(en\)
- Buy Cheap Adobe Creative Suite 5.5 Master Collection
- Buy Corel Paintshop Photo Pro X4 \(en\)
- Buy Cheap Lynda.com - Create a Sortable Photo Gallery with jQuery
- Buy Cheap Infinite Skills - Learning SolidWorks 2013
- Discount - Kinemac MAC
- 319.95\$ Autodesk AutoCAD MEP 2014 \(32-bit\) cheap oem
- Download Eset Smart Security 5 \(32-bit\)
- Buy OEM Kinemac MAC
- Buy Cheap Apple Final Cut Pro X MAC

WoolEye

Bent River Brewing Company

Saturday, February 23

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

When I began researching the Colorado musicians of WoolEye - who play the Bent River Brewing Company on February 23 - it was pretty clear that Mike Rouse, Glen Manna, Matt Goldberg, and Luke Emig were talented. Performing a mixture of rock, funk, jazz, and psychedelia, the group has shared the stage with the likes of Tea Leaf Green, New Monsoon, and Garaj Mahal, and has certainly garnered the attention of home-based music critics; the Durango Telegraph wrote that "WoolEye's high-energy shows are marked by solid songwriting, meaningful lyrics, and powerful rhythms," and on the syndicated radio program The Colorado Rave, Carmen Allgood described the band as "poetry in motion."

Yet further research indicated that WoolEye is more than talented; they might actually be blesse d

In an interview with the Colorado independent Cairn Magazine, lead vocalist Rouse explained how, during a blinding snowstorm on a recent winter tour, the headlights on their vegetable-oil-powered bus suddenly went out; running late for a gig, the band pressed on by duct-taping flashlights to the front of the bus, and were eventually pulled over by the police. Were they issued a ticket? Given a warning, even? Nope. They received a police escort to their concert, and their arrival was greeted with a standing ovation.

No word on the exact definition of "WoolEye," but I'm thinking "lucky as hell" isn't far off.

More information on WoolEye's Bent River concert is available at (<http://bentriverbrewery.com>)

The Number 14

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

Hancher Auditorium

Sunday, February 24, 2 p.m.

Here's one for the parents of young children: Would you like your kids to learn how to behave responsibly on the bus? Then, for heaven's sake, do not bring them to Hancher Auditorium's presentation of The Number 14 on February 24. After this ride, your youngsters may not want to sit ever again.

Called "delightful, dazzling, brilliant, and astounding" by the New York Daily News, this production by Vancouver's Axis Theatre Company finds six performers portraying some 60 eccentrics on a city bus - among them a pair of Shakespearean hams, kindergarten students led by a boozy teacher, and a real-estate saleswoman who simultaneously talks on the phone, brushes her teeth, and changes her pantyhose - and has been presented more than 1,100 times (over four continents) during its 16-year run.

Though this vaudeville-meets-Mr.-Bean slapstick seems all but indescribable, suffice it to say

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

that The Number 14 is a blend of mime, song, dance, clowning, puppetry, commedia dell'arte, and gravity-defying acrobatics, and the New York Times' Lawrence Van Gelder wrote that "no one who has ever ridden a bus through urban streets for any length of time will fail to respond to this pageant with either a smile, a nod, or a shudder of recognition." Which, of course, begs the question: What kind of crazy-ass bus rides has Van Gelder been taking ?

For tickets to The Number 14, visit (<http://www.hancher.uiowa.edu>).

The Skyla Burrell Band

Blueport Junction

Saturday, February 23

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

<http://www.skylabjournal.com> Intelligent Than You Actually Are

<http://www.skylabjournal.com> Intelligent Than You Actually Are

What's Happenin': February 20 - 26

Written by Mike Schulz

Wednesday, 20 February 2008 02:29

~~It was a great day for everyone and we should definitely attend the Devonport Junior~~