"Hey there, Jeff! I hope you and yours are enjoying the merriest of holiday seasons!"

"Well, you're certainly in a good mood."

"I am finished, baby! I got everything done that I needed to get done before heading to my folks' house for Christmas! I wrote my year-in-theatre articles, I'm caught up with online calendar listings, I saw Avatar, and I just sent you the What's Happenin' pages. Done!"

"Is it the same What's Happenin' format that we went with last year?"

"Yup. We're providing a go-to guide for entertainment options on New Year's Eve, with a listing of area venues that'll be hosting live music, karaoke, or DJs in the hours before midnight. The bands will be listed there as well as in the paper's Live Music section, and we're including the venues' phone numbers and street and Web addresses. You know, for convenience."

"Right."

"There'll also be information on what time the music starts, and whether or not there's a cover charge, and whether there'll be hors d'oeuvres and party favors and a champagne toast The whole works."

"Sounds great. And since the article will also be on our Reader Web site, I'm assuming that you'll be able to add to and update the information all the way through December 31, right?"

"Absolutely."

"Excellent. And I have to say, I'm impressed. You completed all your work and still found time to finish your Christmas shopping."

"Christmas shoppi ... ? Oh, crap."

"Happy Holidays, Mike."
