

Nov 22: Today & In History

Written by Todd McGreevy

Saturday, 22 November 2008 15:09

---

- Buy OEM Sony Sound Forge Audio Studio 10
- 89.95\$ Adobe Audition 3 cheap oem
- 39.95\$ Punch! Home Design Studio Pro 12 MAC cheap oem
- Buy OEM Frischluft ZbornToy for AE and PrPro
- Buy Cheap Corel Ventura 10
- 199.95\$ Adobe Acrobat X Suite cheap oem
- Download Microsoft Streets & Trips 2013
- Discount - Adobe Flash Catalyst CS5
- Download Rosetta Stone - Learn Swedish \(Level 1, 2 & 3 Set\) MAC
- Download Adobe InCopy CS6
- Discount - Lynda.com - Joomla! 2.5 Essential Training
- Buy Cheap Autodesk AutoCAD MEP 2014 \(32-bit\)

Today thousands of citizens created awareness about the myths and dangers of the Federal Reserve central banking cartel by organizing rallies at over 35 federal reserve offices/banks nationwide

Congressman Ron Paul, who introduced HR 2755 aka Federal Reserve Board Abolition Act in 2007, spoke at the Houston rally today.

Today, Nov 22, also happens to be the anniversary of John F. Kennedy's assassination. No doubt this was not lost on the organizers of today's End the Fed rallies.

A few months before he was killed, JFK signed executive order 11110 as an attempt to eliminate the Federal Reserve

There is coverage of today's End the Fed rallies from call ins around the nation through midnight tonight at www.rtrradio.com

Former presidential candidate Ron Paul's speech in Houston today covered sound money alternating with central banking as America's monetary system throughout history. He also shared details of his questioning of Ben Bernanke upon the Fed Chair's return from his meeting with the European central banks. Dr. Paul states that Bernanke operates within the parameters of the law, but not the constitution, when he refuses to confirm or deny plans to participate in a global federal reserve system.