The National Weather Service office in the Quad Cities publishes the Weather Home Companion, a semiannual newsletter. Our Spring/Summer 2012 issue is now available on our website at <http://www.crh.noaa.gov/dvn/?n=additional-links#newsletter> . This link also contains all past issues of our newsletter. There is also a temporary link under the Top News of the Day section on our main webpage.

In the past, you may have received a copy of our newsletter in the mail. We have now switched to electronic distribution. If you do not wish to receive notification when a new issue is posted, then please send an email to sandra.stevens@noaa.gov to be removed from our email distribution list.
