Moline, Illinois – Local entrepreneur is helping bring awareness and raise funds for The Quad City Honor Flight.

Dr. Rebecca Bravard, owner of Quad City Spine Clinic served in The United States Army for 12 years as a Combat Medic and a Black Hawk Helicopter Crew Chief. She decided in January to do her part for our area Veterans after talking to an Honor Flight Participant. “I met a Korean War Veteran who was chosen to go on an Honor Flight. This usually stoic man teared up instantly as he spoke about the opportunity to see the Korean War Memorial in D.C. I was touched and inspired to become passionately involved to help with this cause.”

This fundraising drive is only the beginning for the Quad City Spine Clinic says Dr. Bravard, who has been giving back, since she opened her doors in Moline back in 2008. For a $40 donation to The Quad City Honor Flight, the clinic donates a consultation, medical history, orthopedic and neurological exam, x-rays (if necessary), and report of findings to all new patients. A service valued at well over the donation price. She is taking her promotion to area businesses, farmers markets, health and fitness facilities, community churches, and civic groups, along with many other community events. We are trying to raise $1,000 for the Honor Flight.

It is our goal at Quad City Spine Clinic to give back to this great community because We All Need Each Other. “I have lived all over the world and have fallen in love with the people of the Quad Cities who have welcomed me with open arms since I settled here in 2001”, says Dr. Rebecca Bravard.
