I'm often asked, "How does the Red Cross manage to be everywhere at once?" The answer is simple: our local chapters and volunteers.

Whether it's midnight or noon, rain or shine, your local Red Cross chapter works around the clock to prevent and relieve suffering.

From helping families cope after emergencies to coordinating blood drives, and more, it's your generosity that makes so much possible.

We wanted to show you all of the important and meaningful work you help support every day – and to say thank you.

We're so proud to have you standing with us. Thank you for being willing to roll up your sleeves and for making this all possible.

Sincerely,

Gail
