Bettendorf, IA – The Horvath family will be hosting the Pleasant Valley Sparkles Christmas party this Sunday, December 18th at 4:15pm at their home. Happy Joe Whitty will be stopping by to bring added holiday cheer to the event. The Sparkles and their mentors will enjoy an evening of pizza, soda, Christmas crafts, a gift exchange and music.

“These girls are truly amazing. As members of the cheerleading squad they dedicate their time to practices and performing for football and basketball games as well as community events. They give 110% all the time,” says Tiffany Horvath, mother of Sparkle Mentor Taylor Horvath. “This party is an opportunity to take time for themselves, relax and enjoy some well-earned time with their mentors and friends.”

Additionally, the Sparkles would like to extend their thanks and gratitude to Happy Joe’s, who graciously donated pizza for the party.

The Sparkles are special-needs cheerleading squad started at Pleasant Valley High School in 2008. Since then, the “Sparkle Effect” has gone nationwide, with approximately 52 inclusive teams in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana, Alabama, Tennessee, Washington, Florida, California, North Carolina, Texas, Pennsylvania, Missouri, Georgia, Ohio, Connecticut, New York, and even South Africa.

All media are welcome to join the party at 5374 Berkshire Street, Bettendorf on the 18th at 4:15pm. There will be lots of pizza and treats for them to enjoy as well!
