(Quad Cities) – Icestravaganza 2014 will focus on, what else, Ice! Award-winning ice sculpture artist, Dawson List, will bring his top-rated skills up from the Big Easy to wow event goers on Saturday, January 18 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

at the RME/Skybridge Courtyard on 2nd Street in downtown Davenport. List ranked in the top 10 at the World Ice-Art Championships and competes nationally and internationally. List even has his place in history for his role in creating the world's largest ice bar and longest ice luge!

See fantastic, large scale ice creations that will be on display during Icestravaganza. The sculptures will even include one large architectural carving that you can walk through! Additional sculptures celebrating our winter and river heritage will also be carved live on site.

The free event will not only feature live ice carving, but also free horse drawn carriage rides and activities and exhibits at downtown locations including the Figge art museum Kids Design Glass exhibit, German American Heritage Center's Hinges and Hearts- The World of Antique Metal and Mechanical Dolls exhibit, storytelling by the Midwest Writing Center at the RME, and preschool story time and the unveiling of the new mural inside the library.

If you go:

Where: The live ice carving will take place in the RME/Skybridge courtyard on 2nd Street
