MOLINE, ILLINOIS – WQPT will be holding auditions for female voice talent for the Ballet Quad Cities production of “From the Pages of a Young Girl’s Life” that will air April 27th at 7 pm on WQPT. The ballet is being presented as a special edition of WQPT’s new arts program “Artists in Profile.” WQPT and Ballet Quad Cities are looking for a young female voice to read Anne Frank’s letters. A script will be provided at the auditions. Talent must sound like a young teenage girl. Special consideration to talent who can speak with a slight German accent. Most importantly talent must be able to read the letters with passion and conviction.

Auditions will take place on April 24th at WQPT’s offices on 60th Street in Moline, Illinois. Directions will be given at the time you are given an audition slot. The taping for the program will take place on April 25th

Girls auditioning must have an appointment to be seen. No walk-ins allowed. To schedule an appointment call Lora Adams at WQPT
