Amana – The Old Creamery Theatre is offering a special evening of entertainment and refreshments on Sunday, July 15 starting at 6 p.m. on the Main Stage in Amana.

Tom Milligan, producing director at The Old Creamery Theatre will portray Grant Wood, Henry A. Wallace and Forrest Spaulding in three separate one-man plays written by nationally known playwright Cynthia Mercati.

In Grant Wood: Prairie Rebel, Milligan will chat with the audience as Grant Wood and talk about his life and how he changed the art world with his work.

In The Not So Quiet Librarian, Milligan will portray Forrest Spaulding, director of the Des Moines Public Library and a leader in the library world. Spaulding wrote the Library Bill of Rights, which was adopted by the American Library Council in 1938.

In American Dreamer: The Life and Times of Henry A Wallace, Milligan will portray the agricultural innovator and founder of Pioneer Hi-Bred seed corn who became U. S. Secretary of Agriculture and later Vice President under Franklin Roosevelt.

Tickets are $30 and includes all three plays plus delicious hors d'oeuvres and light desserts from Phat Daddy's in Marengo. Call The Old Creamery Theatre box office at 800-35-AMANA or 800-352-6262 or visit the web site at www.oldcreamery.com.
