Amana - God of Carnage, a dramatic comedy by Yasmina Reza opens Thursday, Sept.20 at 3 p.m. on the Studio Stage at The Old Creamery Theatre in Middle Amana.

Translated by Christopher Hampton, God of Carnage focuses on two couples as they meet one evening to discuss a playground scuffle between their sons. As the evening wears on, differences between the couples become more apparent and nerves shatter in this thought provoking play.

The cast of God of Carnage consists of Jeff Haffner of Cleveland, Ohio; Jackie McCalland Sean McCall of Marengo and Carrie Houchins-Witt of Coralville. Winner of the 2009 Tony Award for Best Play, God of Carnage is rated Theatre R for adult language

Tickets are $27 for adults and $17.50 for students. For more information or to reserve tickets call The Old Creamery Theatre at 800-35-AMANA (352-6262) or visit the website at www.oldcreamery.com

The Old Creamery Theatre Company is a not-for-profit professional theatre founded in 1971 in Garrison, Iowa. The company is celebrating 41 years of bringing live, professional theatre to the people of Iowa and the Midwest.
