Now you know

The spring 2008 River Cities' Reader Quad Cities Dining Guide provides you with all the information you need to eat out in our community. Within these pages you'll find information on more than 650 area restaurants, grouped by cuisine: fine dining, American, Asian, Italian/pizza, Mexican, other (including ethnic restaurants not covered by other categories), ice cream/sweets, and fast food.

Listings include:

- Address, phone number, and Web site.
- Kitchen hours.
- Ownership – whether it's locally owned and operated, a franchisee, or a chain.
- Whether reservations are accepted or required.
- Awards and specialties.
- Payment options, including checks and credit cards.
- The average cost of an entrée.
- Whether dressy attire is recommended.
- Whether the restaurant is smoke-free. (Iowa restaurants will be smoke-free starting July 1, 2008.)
- Types of alcohol available – specifically whether you can get beer, wine, and/or mixed drinks.
- Whether you can get a lunch in 30 minutes or less.
- Whether takeout, delivery, and catering are available.
- Whether the restaurant is available for private parties.
- Whether vegetarian entrées are available.
- Whether outdoor seating is available.
- Whether WiFi is available.

We've made every effort to contact each restaurant in the guide to ensure that the information is accurate, but mistakes and omissions are inevitable. To add a restaurant to our guide or update your restaurant's information, contact Rick at (563)324-0049 or (food@rreader.com). If there's information you'd like to see included in future Quad Cities Dining Guides, contact Jeff at (jeff@rreader.com).
